

CURRENT WEATHER

Today
12°/25°

Tomorrow
13°/21°

Tuesday
11°/20°

Summery weather will still prevail on Sunday and longer sunny intervals are expected during the day. In the afternoon, scattered cumulus clouds will locally form, whereby the risk for thunderstorms will not be overly high. However, one or another thunderstorm cannot be fully excluded. At the beginning of next week, the air layers will generally become more unstable again. Consequently, bigger cumulus clouds will repeatedly interfere with the weather and result in scattered rain showers or thunderstorms. Sunny conditions are temporarily expected too. From midweek onwards, the wind will veer northwards and the temperatures will slowly decrease. Moreover, the weather will remain unsteady and rain showers are repeatedly expected.

WEEKLY PROGRAM

ADVENTURE PLAYGROUND IN ISCHGL

Preview for Monday

The day starts with an ascent on the Silvrettaseilbahn cable car up to 2,320 m where the 'Vider Truja' adventure park is located. The adventure park was renovated in 2021 and offers numerous play opportunities for children and plenty of sitting and reclining areas for parents to relax in the fresh mountain air. The gondola then takes you back to the Silvrettaseilbahn middle station from where a short walk leads to the Adventure Stage between the small Schwarzwasser and Pardatscher See lakes. Children can let off steam here and, put their sense of balance and skills to the test and design some tree faces. Alongside are BBQ points which are free to use. The route back into the valley leads via the Walk of Lyrics which also crosses the two 'Kitzloch' and 'Bärafalla' suspension bridges.
